Ideal Buyer:

- Sales-driven entrepreneur, EV supplier, energy/utility firm, or investor with marketing reach and a desire to scale a proven product in a booming market.

Why It's for Sale:

- During the supply chain volatility of COVID, the company secured its future with a significant upfront investment in inventory. While this protected product availability, it constrained operating capital and required the founders to take on outside roles.
- Today, ShoreCharge is a clean, low-overhead company on the shelf—ready for a new owner focused on growth.
